

Standard UPI transaction limits

There are daily limits to how much money you can send or receive through UPI transactions.

Tip: Transaction limits on Google Pay vary by bank account, credit card, and other payment methods. Learn about UPI Issuing bank wise limits.

Person-to-person (P2P) payment limits

You may not be able to make a payment to person if you reach any of these limits:

- A successful payment total of up to ₹1 lakh from a single bank account in the last 24 hours. This limit is set by banks across all UPI apps.
- 20 successful payments in the last 24 hours.
- 150 successful payments in the last 30 days.

To fix these issues:

- Wait until the next day to send more money.
- Pay a smaller amount.
- Try with a different bank account.

Know your transaction limits as a new Google Pay or UPI user

If you reinstalled the app and added your bank account recently on your Google app, here are the UPI guidelines:

- For Android devices: You can only transfer up to ₹5,000 within the first 24 hours for security reasons.
- For iOS devices: For the first 3 days after you add a bank account, you can transfer up to ₹5,000 every 24 hours, with a total maximum limit of ₹15,000 for the period.

Limits for payment to merchants

To make high-value payments to merchants more convenient and secure, the per-transaction limit for specific merchant categories has increased.

Verified merchant transaction limits by category

You can make larger payments to verified merchants for essential services. While the standard UPI limit is ₹1 lakh per day, these categories support higher transaction values:

Merchant category	New transaction limit	Total daily limit
Capital market (Mutual funds, broking)	₹5 lakh	₹10 lakh
Insurance (Premiums)	₹5 lakh	₹10 lakh
Government e-Marketplace (Earnest Money Deposit (EMD) payments)	₹5 lakh	₹10 lakh
Travel	₹5 lakh	₹10 lakh
Credit card bill payments	₹5 lakh	₹6 lakh
Collections	₹5 lakh	₹10 lakh
Business/Merchant (Pre-Approved)	₹5 lakh	N/A
Jewellery	₹2 lakh	₹6 lakh
FX Retail through Bharat Bill Payment System (BBPS)	₹5 lakh	₹5 lakh
Digital account opening – Term deposits	₹5 lakh	₹5 lakh
Digital account opening – Initial funding	₹2 lakh	₹2 lakh
Tax payments	₹5 lakh	₹10 lakh
Hospitals and educational services	₹5 lakh	₹10 lakh
IPO or RBI G-Sec (Retail direct scheme)	₹5 lakh	₹15 lakh

Identify verified merchants

Higher limits apply only to merchants verified by National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI). Signs of a verified merchant:

- Green tick: A green checkmark shows next to the merchant's banking name on the payment screen.
- Message: Before you enter your UPI PIN, Google Pay shows a message like "You can pay up to ₹X,XX,XXX to this merchant."

Tip: A high-value transaction with a verified merchant may fail if your bank's daily limit is below the NPCI maximum.

Bank limits

If your daily transactions are below the prescribed UPI limit mentioned above and you're still having trouble, try a different bank account.

Your bank might have its own limits on how much you can send or receive. Contact your bank for more information.

Request money from a Google Pay Contact

On Google Pay app, you can request up to ₹2,000 INR at a time from someone.

1. On your mobile device, open Google Pay app .
2. At the bottom, swipe up.
3. If you want to request money from someone, tap the photo of the contact.
 - You can also search for their name, phone number, account number, or UPI ID.
4. At the bottom, tap Request.
5. Enter the amount and description.
6. Tap Request.

When the other person pays or declines your request, you can get a notification from Google Pay.

Tip: You receive money in the account set as primary on your Google Pay bank account settings.

Other limits

To protect against fraud, some transactions might get flagged for further review. If you're having trouble making a transaction and you don't think you reached a limit, contact Google Pay support.

Tip: If you try to send or receive less than ₹1, the money won't go through and you'll get an error message.
